A LOOK AT THE 1992-93 YEAR

DALLAS FLOYD RECREATION CENTER DEDICATION

Cumberland University

Tuesday

April 20, 1993 • 11:00 a.m.

One of the most exciting events of the year was the opening of the new Dallas Floyd Recreation Center in November. The center is approximately 30,000 square feet in size with seating for about 2,000 spectators. It has locker room facilities for men's and women's physical education classes, basketball teams, and women's volleyball team. Several classrooms and faculty offices are also included in the building. The beautiful new facility on the CU campus was made possible by the largest single family donation ever received by the University. The gift was given by J.D. and Ann Floyd and Billy and Jane Floyd Baxter, owners of the Lebanon-based Floyd and Baxter Amusement Company. The $1.5 million center is named in honor of the late Dallas Floyd, a life-long resident of Lebanon and entrepreneur of the outdoor amusement business. The two scoreboards and shot clocks were donated by the Lebanon Coca-Cola Plant. Everyone at CU is excited about the new center and is looking forward to many years of sporting events to be held in it.

The History Of Cumberland University

CUMBERLAND UNIVERSITY: 150 YEARS OF EXCELLENCE

Cumberland University was founded in 1842, when prominent members of the community recognized the need for higher education. As a result, the need for well trained lawyers increased during this time, and the Law Barn was added to the school. The law school trained many highly educated lawyers in the community. By 1854, a School of Theology and a School of Engineering was added. The University was thriving in every direction, and was offering a wide variety of educational opportunities to the Wilson County area.

During the Civil War, Cumberland University faced many hardships. Many students and professors joined the service in the Union and Confederate armies. After the Union forces occupied the campus in 1863, Union hall was burned to the ground.

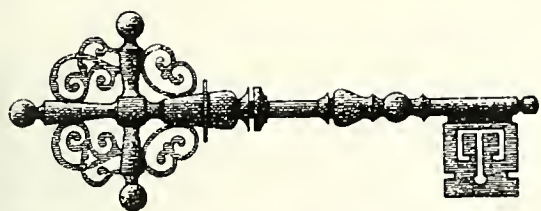

Cumberland University's symbol is the Phoenix, and like its legend, Cumberland rose from the ashes of the Civil War to soar high as it had in the past.

Memorial Hall was built on Cumberland's main campus in 1892, and serves as the main building on the campus today. In 1946, the Baptist Convention acquired Cumberland University. In the Spring of 1951, the Baptist Convention funded Belmont College in Nashville, Tennessee. The Baptist University eventually relocated in Nashville. In the years since, Cumberland was changed to a two year college, and recently has become a four year university.

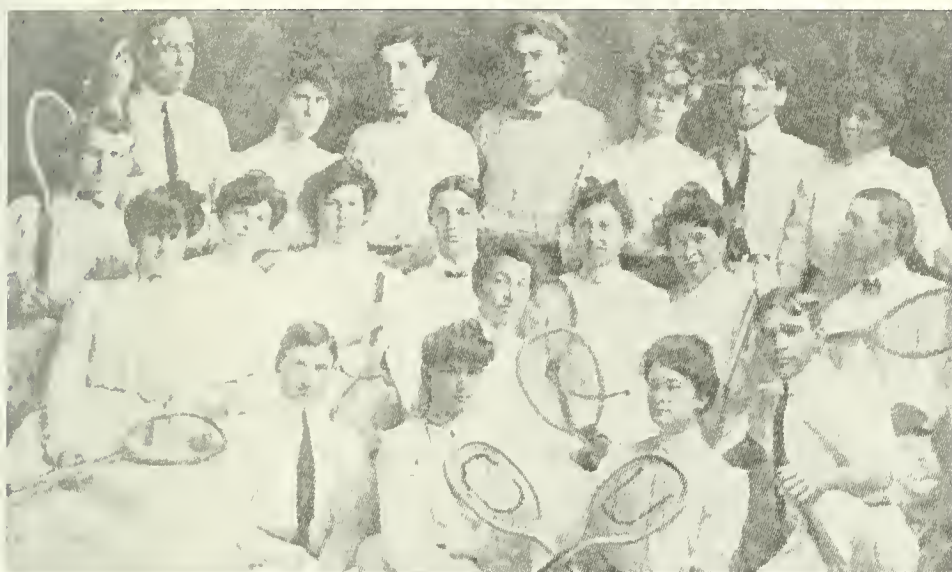

In the past few years, we have watched the construction of the Vice Library and the new Dallas Ford Gymnasium. Plans are being made in the renovation of the old gym into a Fine Arts Building. This is a new era for Cumberland University, and we hope that Cumberland continues to grow and prosper.

The Doris and Harry Vise Library, built in 1990, won an award for the best architectural design of a college building in TN.

The players of the Tennis Club of 1895 display the school monogram on their racquets.

The historic "Law Bam" stood from 1878 until 1962.

The first building named Rascal makes friends with Marvine Stockton, the President's wife.

The men's dormitory, housing law students, was destroyed by fire, like its predecessor 32 years earlier.

Political

The 1992 Presidential Campaign has been a very big event for the students here at Cumberland. Campaign signs for all candidates were hung in Memorial Hall and there were visits by Senators Bart Gordon and Jim Sasser. All students were urged to vote, because for many it would be the first presidential election that they would be able to participate in by voting.

To get the students involved in the election, Dr. Kozy's American National Government and Politics class had committees representing the Republican and Democratic parties in a political debate. Each committee answered questions given by various students. After the debate, there was a mock election in which George Bush won by a slim margin, followed by Bill Clinton, and then independent Ross Perot.

CU student, Lisa Kemp (right), was involved in the student political debate. Lisa represented the Republican party. Lisa says, "I support the Bush campaign because of the morals and ideas they are trying to maintain in our country."

CU Jobs

Everybody knows college students have no money unless, of course, they can cram a job in between all of those classes, clubs, athletic events, and social occasions. Here are a few of those tired students (who have more money than you and I):

Kristy Jones cashier at Red Food
 Karen Edwards McDonald's
 David Pierce ... Western Outlet
 Tommy Hibbett John Deal (stickers)
 Teri LaFaye Professional Singer
 Linh Downs Gondola Restaurant
 Scott Hunt Coca-Cola
 Tracie Tipps waitress at Meacham's
 Deana Alsup Mitzi's Crafts
 David Hiller .. Remodels Homes
 Bobby Comer Sharkbay Aquatics Pet Shop
 Brandi Beard Kimberly's Dress Shop
 Madeanna Parks Goody's Clothing
 Chris Hodge Meacham's
 Rusty Johnson Lebanon Sporting Goods
 Lisa Rogers Ponderosa

CU . . . Overcrowded!

CU's crowded parking lot

More students, more cars, less room to park, more driving around, more tardiness, more teacher frustration! Vicious Cycle.

This year Cumberland has enrolled many more students than ever before. A majority of these students are commuters. With the insufficient amount of parking we have at Cumberland, this has caused a major problem for students and faculty as well. Parking tickets are given to those who aren't as lucky as some who park illegally at the right times of the day. Those who don't want tickets spend valuable time looking for an empty space or someone getting ready to leave. Half of the time they wind up late for class, which irritates teachers and students. Maybe someday CU will come up with a brilliant plan for a 5 story parking garage. Until then students will keep parking in firelanes and visitors spaces and keep refusing to pay for parking tickets.

Fashion

Many people have the wrong concept when thinking that all a college student's morning ritual consists of is crawling out of bed, grabbing a coke, and going to class "as is." This is true for those few students who come to class in their P.J.'s, but most students are very conscientious about how they look. They are concerned about keeping up with the latest styles and looking good everyday. Although most college students don't have a whole lot of extra money to spend on clothes, many are smart shoppers and are able to buy what they need to look their best.

Vijoya Chappaleear and John Fusco are two of CU's most fashionable students.

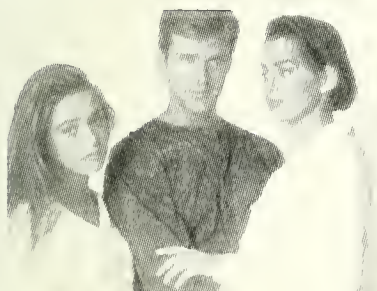

Shaton working at Goody's enables her to keep up with the latest trends.

Movies

This year Cumberland students have had the opportunity to see some of the best movies ever made. Although movie theaters are taking $5.50 and $6.00 per person for tickets, most CU students are still willing to pay the price to see some of the great comedies, dramas, and thrillers that movie makers have to offer. (If they aren't, they can always wait a few months and pay a couple of bucks to see the same films on home videos!) Some of this year's best movies are A Few Good Men (Tom Cruise, Demi Moore, Jack Nicholson), The Bodyguard (Kevin Costner, Whitney Houston), Home Alone II (Macaulay Culkin, Joe Pesci, Daniel Stern), Scent Of A Woman (Al Pacino), Sommersby (Jody Foster, Richard Gere), and Groundhog Day (Bill Murray).

Music At CU

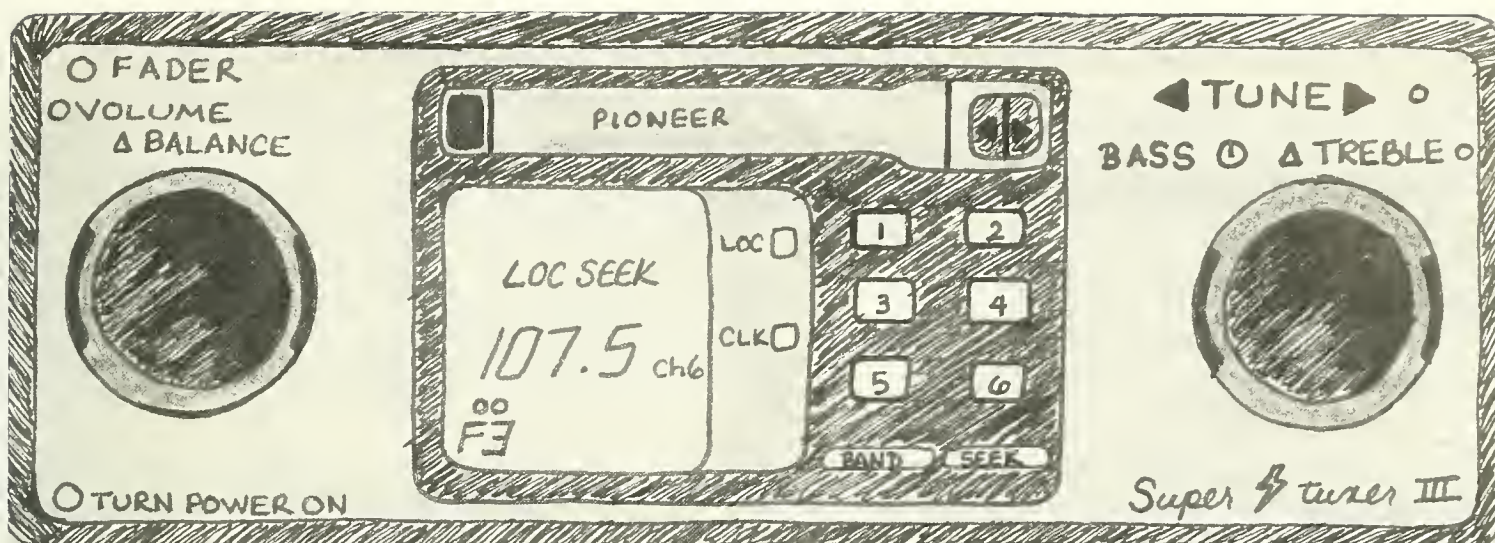

Music is a universal language. You can say a lot or tell how a person feels through music. Music has been around since the dawn of time, although musical styles have changed tremendously. Rap is a rather new style in music. Rap, rock, r & b, country, and other various types of music are all expressing their freedom of speech and relaying all different messages. Freedom of speech has been brought up and discussed nationwide, trying to determine what should or what should not be included in the lyrics of a song.

Many new rock and heavy metal bands are on the rise like Stone temple Pilots, Radiohead, Saigon Kick, and Green Jelly. There are more harmonizing groups now such as Boyz II Men, EnVogue, and Shai. Great new country bands are taking over the top ten charts like Diamond Rio, Little Texas, and McBride and the Ride. It seems that Cumberland students don't like just one type of music. They all are generally "well rounded" when it comes to music, because they will listen to it all.

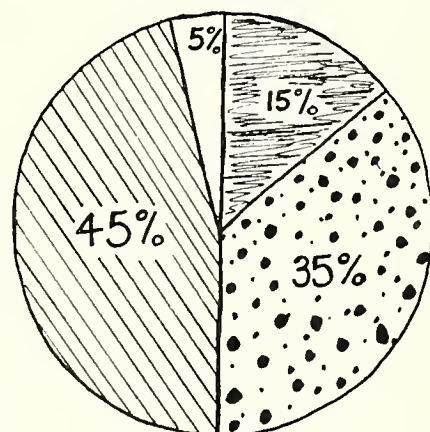

Dana Leath is a true Dwight Yokam fan.

Country Band: DIAMOND RIO

Cameron Potter and Kevin Raney enjoy some guitar tunes.

45% of students listen to rock or R & B; 35% listen to country; 15% listen to both rock and country; 5% listen to something else.

1. Def Leppard — Kick Love into Motion
2. En Vogue — Free Your Mind
3. R.E.M. — Drive
4. Boys II Men — End of the Road
5. Bryan Adams — Do I Have to Say the Words
6. Genesis — I Can't Dance
7. Toad the Wet Sprocket — All I Want
8. Spindoctors — Little Miss Can't Be Wrong
9. Saigon Kick — Love is on the Way
10. Metallica — Nothing Else Matters

Rock

1. Wreckx-n-Effect — Rump Shaker

Alpha Lambda Delta is an honor society for freshmen and sophomores who have a cumulative grade point average of 3.50 or higher. The club meets every first and third Thursday of each month. This year the club sponsored a family at Thanksgiving. Members took Thanksgiving dinner and canned goods to their home. At Christmas, the club decorated a tree for the school. This spring, the club had a bake sale. There will be a scholarship given to a Lebanon High School Senior who plans to attend Cumberland and qualifies for Alpha Lambda Delta. They also sponsored a school project for the spring semester. On April 1, the Alpha Chi-Alpha Lambda Delta Banquet was held to recognize outstanding members with awards and scholarships.

CU Kappa Sigmas attend the installation banquet.

Kappa Sigma was founded December 10, 1869 at the University of VA at Charlottesville. Kappa Sigma existed on the Cumberland campus from 1887 to 1917. It re-emerged in 1991 as a colony, and on April 9, 1993 it was officially chartered as Theta Prime Chapter of Kappa Sigma. An installation banquet was held where several chapters across the country honored Theta Prime as the newest chapter of Kappa Sigma. It was at the banquet where Theta Prime officially received the charter from the Worthy Grand Master and Dean of Cumberland, C. William McKee.

Throughout the 1992-1993 year, Kappa Sigma was involved with *United Way Fundraiser*Spaghetti dinner with Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority*Toys for underprivileged children at Christmas*Alcohol and Drug Awareness campaign before Spring Break*Participating in WDCN Channel 8 Fundraiser Telethon*Helping with CU's Summer Orientations*

Baptist Student Union

The Baptist Student Union (BSU), affiliated with the Tennessee Baptist Convention, welcomes all Cumberland students as members. The BSU meets every Wednesday at 11:00 am in the BSU House. The BSU sponsors Bible studies and fellowships as well as the opportunity to participate in state and regional meetings with other BSU students on other campuses.

Fellowship Of Christian Athletes

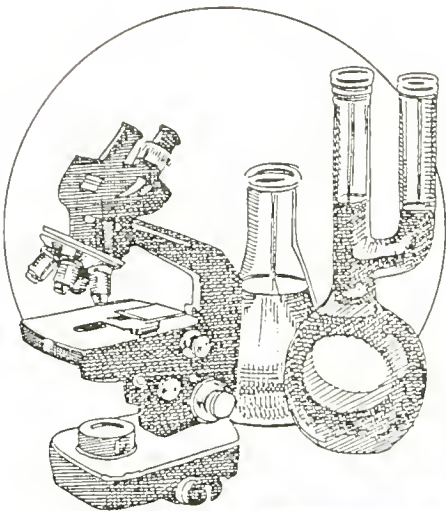

Although the Fellowship of Christian Athletes got started a little late this year, it drew many students to the meetings. FCA isn't just for athletes. FCA is for anyone who would like to hear an inspirational speaker, share thoughts and feelings among friends, or study the bible. (No photo was available)

Science

Club

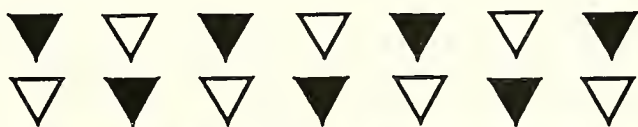

The Science Club invites participation from all interested Biology major students who are concerned about the well-being of the planet. This year, the Science Club had containers placed throughout the campus in which students could recycle their aluminum cans. The Science Club also had special containers set up where students and teachers could recycle computer paper. The club also participated in various other projects designed to raise campus awareness on environmental issues.

Collegian

The 1992-93 Collegian is an informative and fun newspaper for the family at Cumberland University. Keeping us up to date on all happenings at school, entertaining us with comical "Top Ten" lists, and informing students of issues and activities both on and off campus are big jobs for the small Collegian staff to take on, but they do the job and do it well. This year's staff writers are Wendy Barrickman, Joe Seaton, and Vijoya Chappellear. Mr. Roger Karl is the faculty supervisor. The Collegian is always enjoyed by faculty and students alike.

The Phoenix Staff

The 1992-93 Phoenix yearbook staff has worked really hard to put together a good yearbook. During many long meetings and many long hours at home trying to come up with a funny caption, or a different layout design, or even a good story our staff came close together and worked as a team. We realize that the past couple of years, the yearbook has been a little late getting out to you. We are very sorry and we know what we can do different now to get the book to you on time.

The Staff put in a lot of valuable time working on the yearbook.

GRADUATION

Cumberland's 1993 Graduates

Cumberland's Chancellor for Institutional Development, Carl Wallace, delivers the Commencement Address.

Terry Thompson has worked very hard the past few years and he is glad graduation is finally here.

Faculty, honored guests, and speakers watch as the Commencement Exercises begin.

Lee Greenwood sang "The National Anthem" acapella.

Commencement Exercises for Cumberland University graduates were held on Sunday, May 2, 1993 at 2:30 p.m. Due to the rain that day, the graduates were moved into the gym. Ray Cleek from First Baptist gave the invocation. Lee Greenwood sang again this year. The Commencement Address was given by the CU Chancellor, Mr. Carl Wallace. Ray Phillips presented the diplomas.

Postlude

The Woody Hunt Baseball Stadium

This year, Cumberland University honored its Athletic Director and head baseball coach, Woody Hunt, by naming the baseball stadium the WOODY HUNT BASEBALL STADIUM.

Woody started his career at CU in 1977 as an assistant baseball coach. He later coached women's and men's basketball at CU. In 1983, Coach Hunt was named the school's Athletic Director.

Coach Hunt has contributed his time and efforts over the years to make Cumberland's sports program the best it can be. He has worked to make improvements on campus like getting a fence for the Ernest L. Stockton field, an outstanding clubhouse for the ball players, additional seating in the stadium, and many other things to make the campus look and work better.

Congratulations to Coach Hunt. We appreciate all you've done for Cumberland and its students.

In Memory

Mrs. Imogene Ahles

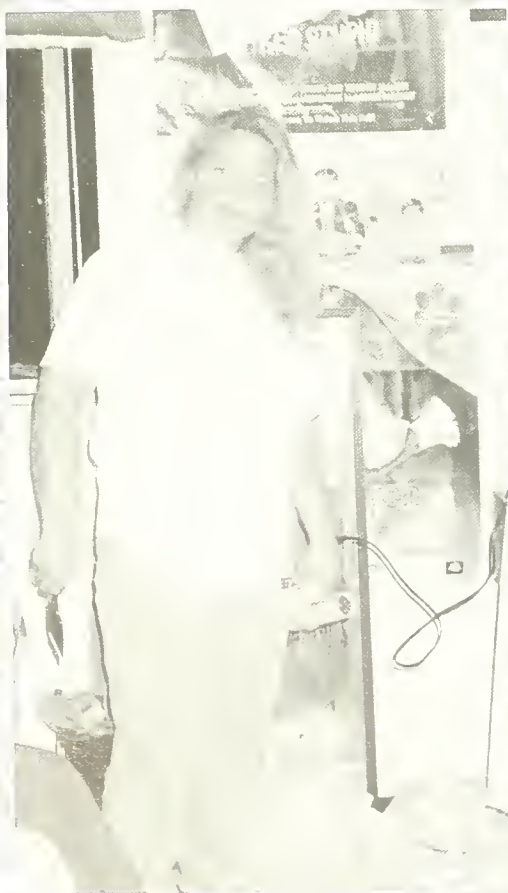

Mrs. Imogene Ahles, a long time administrative secretary to the president of CU passed away after a long illness. Mrs. Ahles was a member of the faculty of the two year college as well as the four year. She was a member of many CU committees, she was active in the CU Woman's Club, and was most knowledgeable about the history of Cumberland. Mrs. Ahles was a wonderful person and will be remembered always.

Brad Sparkman

Brad Sparkman, a 1991-1992 Cumberland freshman, died in an automobile accident early May 30, 1992. He was a graduate of Warren Co. High and was a very talented football player on the CU football team, starting about half of the games that season. Brad was a great person; smart, talented, and very friendly. He is missed greatly.

Awards Banquet

This year the CU faculty and organizations rewarded many deserving students for their hard work in a particular area. A listing of award winners is on page 59.

President Phillips welcomes everyone to the banquet.

Dr. Shultz presents Terry Thompson an award.

Dr. Farris presents Tracie Tipps the Calculus award.

Julia Cawthon is presented an award.

Dr. Gallaway gives an award.

Hiro receives the Math Achievement Award.

CREDITS

The Yearbook design this year was not a totally unique idea on the 1992-93 staff's part. In trying to come up with a cover idea, we found an army green book with a silver bird and black writing in the library. We made fun of the book at first. (mostly because of its ugly color!) We looked through it and found that it was a Cumberland College yearbook from 1969. We liked the design and wanted to improve on it. So we used this burgundy cover with a silver metalay, and hopefully you think it is as attractive as we do. Hey, at least it's not green!

The yearbook staff also came up with some pretty neat artwork this time, but not all of it was copied. Original art in this book was done by Madeanna Parks, Brandi Beard, Erin Vaughn, and Leann Allison.

Yearbook: The PHOENIX is printed by Jostens. The cover is cordova with a black rub and silver metalay. The type is Benguiat and contains 116 pages.

The Yearbook would like to recognize a few people who helped in putting the yearbook together this year. Thanks to: SGA, The Lebanon Democrat, Sonny at Seat's Studio, Dr. Daniels, Terry Thompson, Coach Hunt, Mr. Harold McGe, Dr. Currey, all of the clubs, organizations, and sports teams who helped us out tremendously by submitting stories, season scores, and photos, Custom Color, and anyone else that helped us in any way.

Articles on Coach Hunt and Christmas with the Elementary School students were taken from segments in the Lebanon Democrat and articles about the Collegian staff taken from their February Collegian edition. Also thanks to the Wilson World.
